Three Scoops and a Fig
Author: Sara Laux Akin
Illustrator: Susan Kathleen Hartung

A young chef's messy misadventures in the kitchen are quickly forgotten when she comes up with a special recipe all her own. Sofia is determined to make something extra special for Nonno and Nonna. But mamma mia! She splatters Papa's tomato sauce all over the kitchen, causes Mama's bread to rise like a giant marshmallow, and flings Mario's pizza dough into a ceiling fan! No one wants the help of such a little cook! Sofia retreats with Figaro to the comfort of her favorite swing in the branches of a big, leafy fig tree. Then, with a whoosh! of wind and the plop! of a juicy fig, Sofia gets an idea for a very special treat for her beloved grandparents.

Secrets Revealed: YOUR Story
by Terrence Lee Talley

You have a story to tell, so tell it!

No matter who you are, you have a story to tell. But maybe you've kept it secret and feel afraid to reveal the heavier parts of your story. Maybe you struggle with:

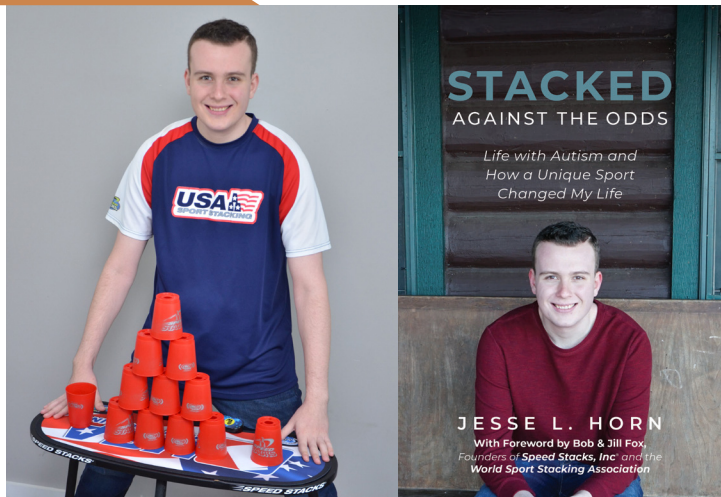

- Family problems.
- Emotional exhaustion.
- Negative self-image.
- Depression.
- Addiction.

The list goes on. It's hard to deal with those things by yourself, and it's even harder to talk about. Trust me, I know. On the flip side, it's hard to be a good friend to someone who is struggling when you don't know what that feels like or what to say or what they're thinking.

So what do you do?

Secrets Revealed is a journal that helps put words to your story and reveal what's there. You may not struggle with some of the things mentioned in this book, but once you reach the final pages you'll have a deeper understanding of what people who do struggle with those things are dealing with. No matter what the struggle is, you will know that you are not alone and that hope can be revealed in your own story.

STACKED Against the Odds: Life with Autism and How a Unique Sport Changed My Life
a personal narrative by Jesse L. Horn

Jesse Horn came into the world a perfectly sweet baby boy, but when he was two years old, things started to change. He wouldn't make eye contact, he wouldn't speak, and his temperament became unpredictable. After seeking a diagnosis, the family's fears were confirmed: Jesse had autism. After two years of Applied Behavioral Analysis Therapy, life started changing once again. At the age of nine, a chance encounter with a unique sport would help Jesse discover a passion that would skyrocket his personal growth and allow him to embrace a newfound sense of self-confidence.

His story will lead families facing autism to hope: hope that those with autism are so much more than a diagnosis. They are capable of discovering life-fulfilling passions and defining for themselves what it is to live with autism.

Jesse has gone on to earn international titles in Sport Stacking with Team USA, is a motivational speaker and ambassador, and has guest-starred on CBS's The Doctors.
