

Author, Greg Budzien, is visiting our school to read his debut children's book!

When Miss Ruby and Miss Pearl discover a mouse living in the walls, a discussion of fairness and prejudice ensues, ending with a satisfying epiphany of self-awareness, friendship, and fellowship. Charming and clever verse, highlighted by appealing illustrations, makes this moral lesson an approachable story for any young reader or listener. Tea for Three is an entertaining, essential, and touching story that teaches lifelong lessons of tolerance and acceptance.

"I appreciate the lessons that this book teaches our kids — lessons of open-mindedness, avoiding prejudice, and welcoming one another as friends Beautifully illustrated, gracefully written, and filled with lessons relevant to all ages. A must-read!"

—Kaylee Cardinal, mother of two & elementary educator

Student + Teacher Name _____

Books will be delivered to your classroom by _____ Hardcover Quantity _____ x ~~$16.99~~ Student discount, $15.00!

Paperback Quantity _____ x ~~$11.99~~ Student discount, $10.00!

TOTAL Payment Enclosed _____

Cash or check accepted. Make all checks payable to Greg Budzien.

OrangeHat
PUBLISHING

Also available on orangehatpublishing.com,
Amazon, and where all fine
books are sold!

"A perfect book that lends itself to many relevant discussions and pertinent life lessons."

—Robin Neuman, elementary educator

